

Cavin O'Driscoll

Cavin O'Driscoll is a fixed income specialist with over 30 years of experience gained in bond trading, portfolio construction and risk analytics. He was formerly Global Head of Credit eTrading at HSBC and Director of Financial Credit Trading at Unicredit.

Cavin was involved in the development and issuance of the new AT1 capital debt instruments following the great financial crisis. He recently joined Cobden Partners and has been researching developments in the European financial system, especially the capital strengthening of the Italian Banking system.